NASHVILLE 'UNION

A Robel Organ on the Right of Suffrage.

The Richmond Whig a few weeks ago published the following editorial, which we commend to those foreigners especially who have been impressed, or have friends impressed in the robel army :

It is evident that stringent laws must be adopted in regard to the exercise of the right of suffrage by all future emigrants to the South. Either a high freehold qualification, or the possession of negro property, or, if no other means will meet the case, the entire exclusion from any such franchise of all future emigrants from the North except by special act of Congress. We have never been able to see why our own countrymen should make this boon of suffrage cheaper than it is in any other country on the earth. In Great Britain, as free and prosperous a nation as the world ever saw, neither our own countrymen nor natives of any other country are permitted to vote except by special act of Parliament. Whilst existing rights of residents before the war ought of course to be respected, we should rejoice to see a total prohibition of suffrage to all Northerners who shall hereafter make the South their home.

Andrew J. Vallandigham, who says he is a brother of the member of Congress from Ohio, has been taken in custody by Col. Fitz Henry Warren, at Clinton, Mo., upon a charge of horse stealing, robbing and driving out Union men, and marauding, bushwhacking and jayhawking gen-

The Charleston Mercury says that "New Orleans has sent one hundred and thirty-seven companies to the war."

New Orlean's "room is a good deal better than her company."

Lead is very scarce. - Charleston Mercury.

What does a South Carolina rebel want with lead, we would like to know? with anything except light heels and a white feather?

The Charleston Mercury lately made the following announcement:

A ball is to come off in Raleigh, N. C. to-night. The ladies are all to be dressed in homespun, the gentlemen are to wear homespun also, and wooden shoes.

How nimbly the chivalry must have skipped in their new terpsichorean out-

PROSPECTUS OF SHE

NASHVILLE UNION.

THE NAMETICAL UNION WAS COMMUNICOD & few weeks: since, for the purpose of opposing the Behal Southern Confederacy, and of advocating the restoration of Federal authority, without any abatement, over all the States which have attempted to secode. In holds as friends all who support, and as form all who oppose the Union of the States. It has no watchword but PREEDOM AND NATIONALITY.

With robels and traitors it has no compromise to make. It contends for the Federal Constitution and the Laws made in pursuance thereof as the Straggs LAW OF THE LAND, anything in the Constitution and Laws of any of the States to the contrary notwith-

It contends for the Union of the States, because without it the preservation of our Ifberties and institulions and the organization of society itself are wholly impeasable. Therefore, whatever stance in the way of crushing out the rebellion and restoring the Union must perish, no matter by what name it be called.

To the people of Tennessee, ever renowned for their devotion to laberty and Union, until they were betrayed to the rebel despotism at Richmond by a perdious Governor and corrupt Legislature, and who have felt so heavily the awful curse of treason and anarchy, we appeal for support. Let the names of robel office helders, Vigilance Committees, and Minute Men, who have filled our borders with mourning, be gibbetted before the world. Let those ambitious and avaricious men who have plotted our ruin for their own aggrandizement be fastened to the pillery of shame, so matter how high their position in society. Let it be shown how the self-styled defenders of "Esuthern Rights" are now leading marauding bands of free-booters and moss troopers over our State, kidnapping negroes, stealing horses and cattle, breaking into houses, burning railroad bridges and care, und nurdering unarmed ettrens in cold blood. Let the truth, so long excluded by the Southern complextors, now circulate treely through every neighborhood and our cause will assuredly triumph. Will not loyal men everywhere aid as in the desemination of facts and the advocacy of Free Government?

Brownlow on Rebel Parsons,

Brother Brownlow delivered an address recently in New York on the irreligious tendencies of the rebellion, in which he painted some of the rebel clergy in vivid colors. We quote three instances:

Mr. Maynard, our representative in Congress, is an Elder in the New School Presbyterian Church, a scholar and a gentleman. He had no sooner left in disguise to make his way through to take his seat in Congress, than the Rev. Joseph H. Martin made a set speech, going through the formalities of taking a textpreached an outrageous sermon, and prayed an outrageous prayer, "that his wicked and unhallowed tracks might never again be seen or known in Knox-The mortifled wife of Mr. Maynard, who is in this neighborhood, and who is a lady and so regarded, in every sense of the word, an intelligent, charitable, Christian lady, shedding tears on that occasion, rose up, and left the house and journeyed home, and although she was driven out but a few weeks ago, with my wife and children, she has, to her honor and credit, never disgraced her name by visiting his vile sanctuary any more. [Cheers, "Good."] Feeling that he had behaved in a mean, sneaking, contemptible manner, he made her a visit and apologized, saying, "I didn't want to do it, but my elders made me do it and I had to do it or lose my salary and my place." What do you think of a devil like that?

Fountain E. Pitts, a parson well known in Nashville for great fancy and very little bottom, and consequently known generally as the Bottomless Pitts, is thus Fountain E. Pitts, an old Presiding Elder of the Conference, a man who had been in every General Conference for 30 years, who went to Europe with Bishop Soule, who had one or two sons in the rebel army, was a chaplain of a Nashville regiment, and he made it a practice to get drunk, carrying a bottle with him; he drank to excess and swore profanely, but preached every Sunday faithfully to the soldiers, and in his discourses told them actually that the cause in which they were engaged -- and he only gave him as a specimen of all denominations-fighting for the independence of the South, fighting to keep back the Abolition hordes What do you Palmetto traitors want of the North, and to repulse the hordes of Lincoln, was so good and so holy a cause that if they died in this cause they would be saved in heaven, even without grace.

MEROZ.-One of them, the Rev. Dr. Baldwin of the Methodist Church, Senstor Pickens being in front of him, knelt down, as was the Methodist custom, one Sunday, to pray : "Oh Lord" he said, "we thank thee for having inaugurated this Revolution." Judge Pickens rose up in nis seat, and taking his hat, says he, "G-d d-n such a prayer to hell."

Not Willing to Fight.

We heard yesterday of a man living not a thousand miles from this city, who, to avoid the action of the conscript law, deliberately laid one of his hands upon a block and cut off the third and fourth fingers. When the enrolling officer comes across that man, his name should be taken by all means; having been bled a little, he may yet make a good soldier, and learn to shoot well with his remaining fingers.—Montgomery Advertiser.

Curious Hint Concerning the Rebel Conscription Act.

From the South Carolinian.

We learn by telegraph of the passage of a bill by Congress, pressing under conscription all over eighteen and under thirty-five, and to raise a vast and permanet army without reference to the States. This is a great and mighty stride to a military consolidation. If it be absolutely necessary to save us from a conquest by the North, we are willing to submit to it, but we fear the public mind must prepare itself for a great change in our government.

DEAD LETTER OFFICE. - The following report has just been received at the Postoffice Department from J. T., postmaster -, dated May 8, 1862. If the title of the "Dead Letter Office" were "Return Letter Office," the poor widow alluded to would have been saved some

All of us out here do not understand as yet about these "dead letters" returned to the writers. A few evenings since an aged widow came to the office inquiring for a letter, quite anxious to hear from her son in the army. On receiving her letter she was told it was from the dead letter office. She ran home crying, "Oh Ike is dead, Ike's dead. I've just got a letter from the dead letter office."

GEN. BUTLER IN NEW ORDEANS. - A romark of Picayune, in his official dispatch of the taking of New Orleans, is characteristic of the man. The picture would more secesh. He says:

"I find the city under the dominion of the mob. They have insulted our flagtorn it down with indignity. This outrage will be punished in such a manner as, in my judgment, will caution both the to S. C. MERCER.

Editors of loyal newspapers will do us a great kind. that they shall fear the stripes, if they do not necessary re-publishing the foregoing or its substance.
